

Towards Sofia

Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria, has passed from hand to hand of many rulers for hundreds of years. This translated into the cultural wealth of the city. In 2019 Raben Group also became interested in this city and launched its first Bulgarian branch there.

Horo dance!

Bulgarian folk dance horo is danced in a closed circle or in a procession. It's an integral part of family and national holidays or rituals. Today, many cities in Bulgaria organize Sunday dances in the open air.

Rose Queen

Half of the world's rose oil reserves come from Bulgaria. Since 1903, the Rose Festival has been held in June, at the end of rose harvest. It's the hallmark of the rose capital of the Kazanlak valley. And the hallmark of Raben is the trust of its customers, for which the company received its 4th Golden Emblem in the Logistics Operator of the Year survey in 2019.

Bulgarian roots in... the computer

John Vincent Atanasoff and Clifford Berry, who come from Bulgaria, developed a prototype of the first electronic computer in 1939.

Dream yoghurt

The bacteria Lactobacillus Bulgaricus, which was discovered by Stamen Grigorov at the beginning of the 20th century, are used for yoghurt production all over the world. The bacteria responsible for giving Bulgarian yoghurt its unique taste and texture occurs exclusively in Bulgarian air.

At the source

Bulgaria is the third country with the most valuable archaeological sites after Greece and Italy. Over 15,000 Thracian tombs have been discovered here. Raben, on the other hand, doesn't focus on the past but is working on innovations together with the Genius Lab department.

Banitsa in the morning

Banitsa is a traditional Bulgarian dish made from Filo pastry – from wheat flour and oil. Layered with sirene cheese (or spinach, pumpkin), it is baked in the oven. Perfect for breakfast.

The Bulgarian connection in "The Witcher"

The famous song "Steel for humans" from the "Witcher 3" game is... a Bulgarian wedding song.

Yes, means... No, right?

Nodding your head means NO, and shaking it means YES.

The homeland of Cyrillic

Cyrillic, i.e. the alphabet used in Russia, Belarus and Ukraine, was created in Bulgaria.

Wine gets to the... heart

Trifon Zarezan, or rather St. Trifon's Day, is Bulgarian Valentine's Day celebrated on February 14. It's a celebration of wine, winegrowers and winemakers. Pruning vines on this day is to remind us of the approaching spring.

Rakia – say no more

Rakia, the Bulgarian national alcohol, owes its taste to pears, grapes and apricots.

Adam and Eve in stone

Belogradchik is a rock town where, according to a legend, Adam and Eve, exiled from paradise, were hiding. They turned into boulders here.
